

14.3.5 Editors - Video Sequence Editor - Sidebar - Sequencer - Cache tab

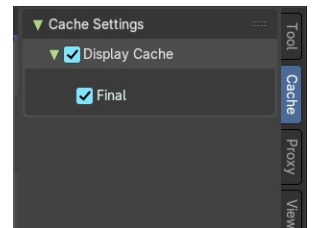

Table of content

Cache Settings panel.....	1
Display Cache.....	1
Final.....	1

Cache Settings panel

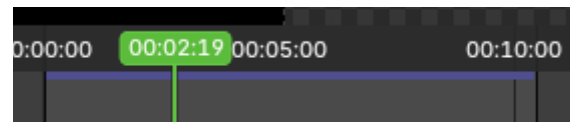

The Cache is used to save frames in memory for preview, so they can be later displayed much faster than rendered from scratch. Cache capacity can be set in System tab of the Preferences.

In this panel you can set up types of images that will be cached for all strips.

Display Cache

This displays the cache overlay in the Sequencer timeline. This draws a purple bar.

Final

Cache final image for each frame.